

The Jenny Wiley Trail (continued)

Primitive camp shelters are located along the trail at different intervals. Most shelters have a cistern water supply or a spring or nearby well. All water should be treated.

Topographical maps and a trail guide are required for each section of the Jenny Wiley Trail. These maps can be purchased from:

Kentucky Department of Commerce
Map Sales
133 Holes Street
Frankfort, KY 40601
502-564-4715

TRAIL SECTIONS

Click on Section No. to read points of interest

SECTION	DEPART	DESTINATION	DISTANCE
1	South Portsmouth	Horse Gap Route 784; Jct. 7	17.9 Miles
2	Horse Gap	Davis Fork of McGlone Creek	19.2 Miles

		Route 184, Jct. 2
3	Davis Gap	Soldier Route 174	23.9 Miles
4	Soldier	Blairs Mill Route 711	23.5 Miles
5	Blairs Mill	Crockett Route 172	20.8 Miles
6	Crockett	Falcon Route 40	24.5 Miles
7	Falcon	Ivyton	13.9 Miles
8	Ivyton	Jenny Wiley State Park	20.6 Miles

Most of the information on this page was gleaned from public material produced by Kentucky State Parks, 500 Metro Street, 11th Floor, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, KY 40601.
502- 564-2172

Return to The Jenny Wiley Trail

Return to The Story of Jenny Wiley

Return to The Wiley Cabin of Walkers Creek

Return to Surname Files

Home

Ellen Pack

This Page is Copyright 1998 - All Rights Reserved

1.

- Overlook of the Ohio River
- Lozier Trail - Privately owned
- Poet Lee Pennington's cabin
- Old Cemetery

Return to Chart

2.

- Portion of trail straddles Greenup and Lewis Counties.
- William's Shelter located in picturesque pastoral setting
- Portions of trail travels through old clay mine

Return to Chart

3.

- Junction of Jenny Wiley and Simon Kenton Trail
- Portion of trail runs along ridge through bountiful ruffed grouse country

Return to Chart

4.

- This area contains a wide variety of wild flowers, ferns, and trees.
- Seasonal waterfalls
- Avoid this section during and soon after heavy rains
- Only section of the trail that is within the Daniel Boone National Forest
- Very scenic area

Return to Chart

5.

- Beautiful scenery, but rough country. Caution advised due to possible bears, and eels in Devi's Fork Creek.

Return to Chart

6.

- Contains remote and primitive areas
- Portions of trail follow old Indian trace

Return to Chart

7.

- Shelter contains two bunks.
- Very scenic ridge with rock formations that allow panoramic views into the valleys below.

- Peak trail elevation - 1,425 ft. at Eagle Rock Overlook

Return to Chart

8.

- Various sections of trail follows ridge.
- Interesting rock formations
- Jenny Wiley is believed to have followed Bear Hollow Creek to the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy where she crossed the river to the safety of Harmon's Station.
- Beautiful section of trail, but rugged as it climbs and drops.
- Several scenic overlooks.
- Trail passes through a government cemetery.
- Tecumseh Overlook provides grand views of Dewey Lake.

Return to Chart